Dedication to Jesus

Lord Jesus Christ, take all my freedom,

Give me these, Lord Jesus, and I ask for nothing more.
Amen. - St. Ignatius of Loyola

LIVING THE WORD

Twentieth Sunday in Ordinary Time

August 18, 2019

REFLECTION

There's a legend around St. Lawrence. Apparently he was so passionate about his faith that as he was being burned alive, he said, "I'm done on this side, flip me over." Many saints and martyrs have lived their faith with such vigor that their dedication to service and faith as well as their traumatic deaths inspire the faithful. Jesus surely inspired the early martyrs with today's Gospel, "I have come to set the earth on fire, and how I wish it were already blazing!" (Luke 12:49). There are so many inspiring saints who accepted their death in the name of Jesus that cause the faithful to pause and pray for their intercession. One such martyr is St. Maximilian Mary Kolbe. During World War II he offered to die in the place of another prisoner who was desperate to live for his family. (We honored St. Maximilian at Mass on August 14.) To confidently face death by the hands of the Nazi's in order for another to live is the ultimate sacrifice. Jesus died on the Cross so that we may be saved. May we live as passionately as the early saints so that all will know we are Christians by our love.

ACTION

Ask a family member or your godparents about your Baptism. What do they remember about that day? If you have not seen or talked to your godparents in a while, give them a call and thank them for saying yes so long ago. Share with them how you are living your faith out loud and about what social justice issues you are passionate. Ask them how they are living out their faith today. In reconnecting with your Baptism, hopefully you will feel grounded in your faith and more inspired to live out your baptismal promise to be "Priest, Prophet, and King . . . [living] always as members of [Christ's] body, sharing everlasting life" (Rite of Baptism for Children, 62).
